

China Everbright Limited’ s CEL-Catalyst China-Israel Fund portfolio company SatixFy successfully lists on NYSE American

China Everbright Limited’ s (Stock code: 165.HK) CEL-Catalyst China-Israel Fund (“CCF” or “The Fund”) is pleased to announce that its portfolio company SatixFy successfully listed on NYSE American on 28th October 2022 with the symbol “SATX” , via a merger with Endurance Acquisition Corp. (NASDAQ: EDNC), a publicly traded special purpose acquisition company, or SPAC. Subsequent to Arbe Robotics, Taboola and Eloxx Pharmaceuticals, SatixFy is the Fund’ s fourth portfolio company to go public after the Fund’ s investment.

SatixFy develops end-to-end next-generation satellite communications systems, including satellite payloads, user terminals and modems, based on powerful chipsets that it develops in-house.

SatixFy’ s products include modems that feature Software Defined Radio and Fully Electronically Steered Multi Beam Antennas (“ESMA”) that support the advanced communications standard DVB-S2X. SatixFy’ s innovative ASICs improve the overall performance of satellite communications systems, reduce the weight and power requirements of terminals and payloads, and save real estate for gateway equipment. SatixFy’ s advanced VSATs and ESMA arrays are optimized for a variety of mobile applications and services, using LEO, MEO and GEO satellite communications systems, for aero/in-flight connectivity systems, communications-on-the-move applications, satellite-enabled Internet-of-Things, and consumer user terminals.
